CHAPTER - 2: What am I?

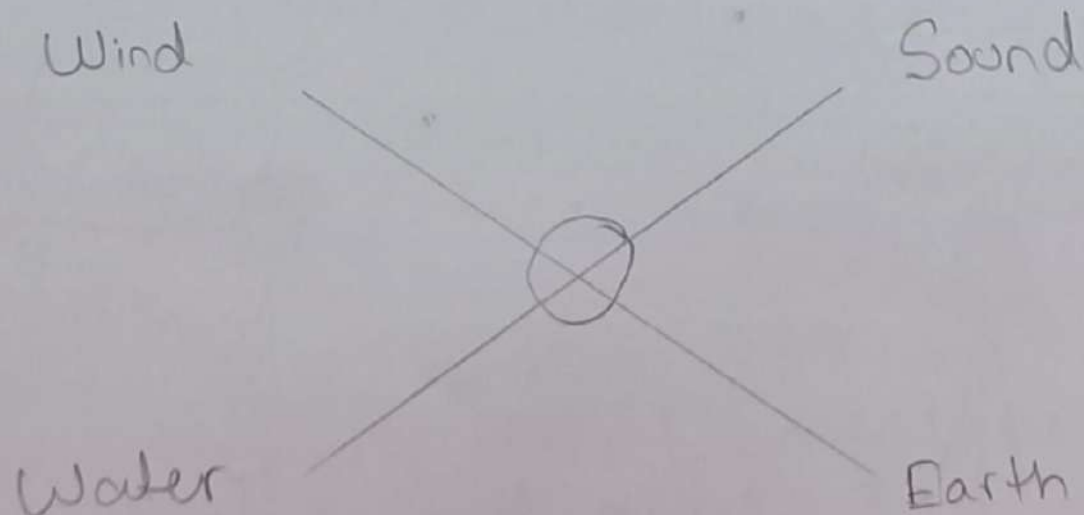

When I woke up, I was in my bed. Well it's not my bed...

And then there was this girl standing next to me.

I was wondering how I ended up here and there, I remembered everything.

There are many elements, which can be controlled by some people. Out of all these there are 4 elements which are considered the strongest of all.

6000 years ago, the elements started choosing people as their masters. No one knows how... Out of all these years, this is the first time Fire had chosen its person i.e. me. In 6000 years, I am the first person to control fire.

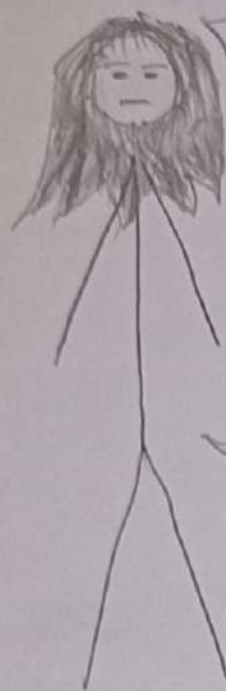

No one knows whether Fire is a strong element or a weak one as this is the first time anyone saw a person controlling fire.

Yep my high school first day is the best day of my life.

Now I really wanted to try many things, like flying.

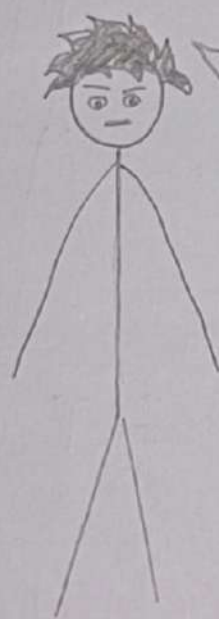

But no matter how hard I tried I couldn't even produce a spark.

Your element is fire.
Even I am confused...
I guess fire changed its mind after all but it chose a person as weak as you...

Don't worry!
We cleared up
your mess

Thanks (I just realized that I had killed those bullies)

My first day of high school was about to restart. I am joining the E-school. OH! and it isn't some electronic school, it's Elementary school.
Yea you read that right. It's a school for elements.

I am going there to train my power???

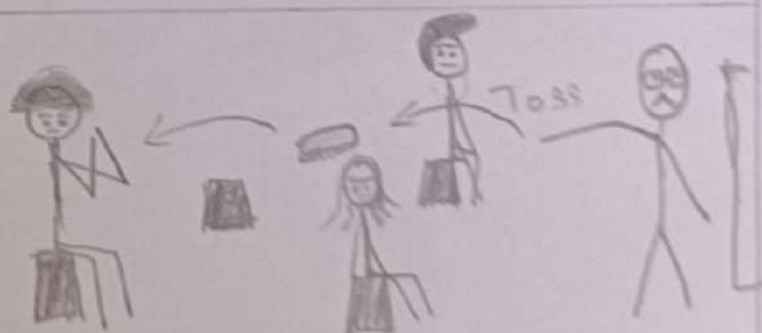

Yes and using it for saving the world

When I arrived at the school, I was taken into the lowest class - G9

When I entered it, I was met with the most strictest teacher.

OH! New boy!
Come in.

(why does he look like an egg)

Though he had a smile I knew it was a cruel one.

And then I sat and met this guy.

Hi!

Hey!

Hey you
show me
what element
you control

Don't tell anyone about your element!

Sir! I don't control
anything.

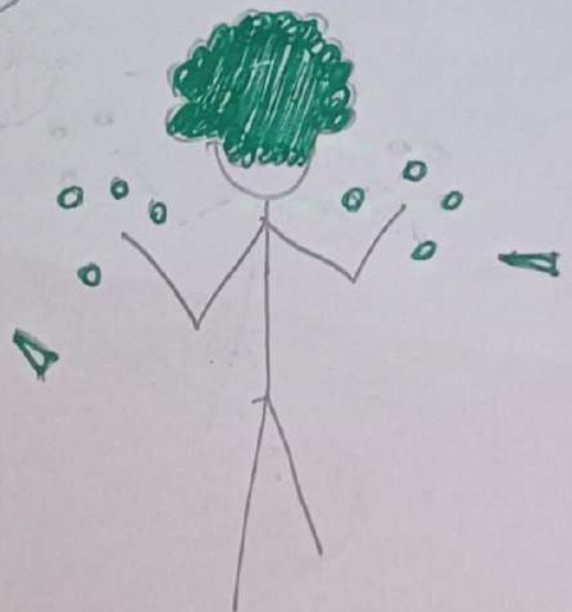

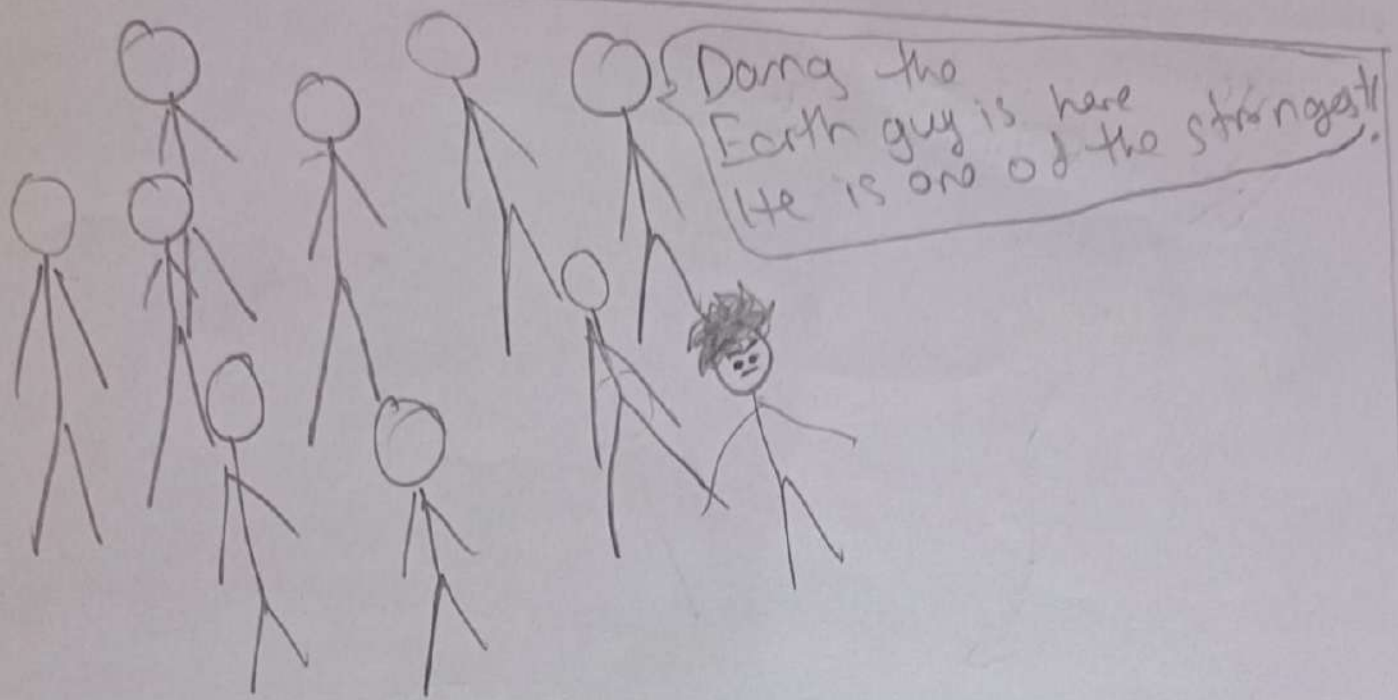

Are you
trying to learn
some secret element
techniques you ordinary human

Uh No Sir!

sentipade enter the
